

At the Toyshop

Last Sunday, Tom and Mum went to Fun Fun Toy Shop. They wanted to buy a red toy car for his sister June. But suddenly, he saw a cupboard full of robots. Mum asked Tom to choose a toy car for June. But Tom didn't hear her.

He took a robot out of the cupboard. He loved robots. He played with it. He wanted to buy the robot for June. Mum chose a toy car for June then she went to the cashier to pay for it. Tom was upset because he wanted to buy a robot for his sister.

Mum said they would go to the toy shop again later to buy the robot, so Tom played with the robot. Suddenly, as he played happily with the robot, it fell onto the floor. Tom was shocked.

In the end, Tom had to pay for the robot. Tom wanted to fix the robot, but he must pay sixty dollars for the robot. His mum was very angry. She shouted at him. At June's birthday, she got the toy car and the robot.
