

Mum's Birthday Party

Yesterday was my mum's birthday. My sister Anna and I wanted to organize a surprise party for our mum. Anna and I wrote a 'to-do' list for Mum's birthday. I was excited.

I went to ABC Supermarket because I wanted to buy some snacks and drinks there. After buying them, I called Anna and asked, 'Have you tidied the living room yet?' 'Yes, I've already tidied the living room and I am writing the birthday card now. Have you bought the snacks and drinks yet?' Anna asked. Then, I said 'Yes, I just bought the snacks and drinks.'

We were having the birthday party at noon at home. We gave the birthday card to our mum. We were very happy. However, Dad asked, 'Where is the cake?' Anna also asked, "Did you buy a cake?' I said, 'Oh no! I forgot!' All of us felt disappointed.

Finally, Anna thought of an idea, so she said to Mum, 'Mum, we didn't buy the birthday cake but we can make the cake together.' My mum was thrilled. I was grateful. At last, we made the cake together at home and we had a good time on Mum's birthday.
