

A Good Student

Jason is an intelligent and hardworking student. In his school, he always raises his hand and listens to the teachers because he likes studying. However, his classmates usually chat with one another. They do not pay attention. As the exam was next week, the teacher told the class to work hard at home.

After school, Jason prepared and did a lot of revision. He wrote some notes and studied until his bedtime. He studied very hard.

A few weeks later, Jason got his report card. He performed very well in all subjects. He received all As. He ran home as fast as a rocket. He excitedly showed Dad his exam result. Dad felt proud and said, 'Wow! Well done, my son.' He asked if Jason wanted to have a gift.

After a while, Jason said, 'I want to spend the summer holiday in the UK because I want to study the British culture and experience the local life.'

In the end, his dad said, 'Sure, my good son.' Jason felt over the moon. He jumped happily and said, 'Thank you Dad, you are the best. I love you very much.'
